Today is International Ninja Day!
Dress like a Ninja. Walk like a Ninja. Talk like a Ninja. Or, just watch a Ninja movie.

International Ninja Day was created in 2003 by Ninja Burger as a way to celebrate the Ninja speed with which their burgers are delivered.

Did You Know?

- Ninjas created a system passing covert messages using colored rice. Each specific rice color had a different meaning.
- Ninjas kept their skills and knowledge a closely guarded secret, even from one another. This secrecy is what kept the ninjas alive as their enemies were looking for them.
- In order to protect the secrets of ninjutsu, many families only passed down their knowledge to their children, if found worthy. Family members would begin teaching children certain skills at a young age by playing games.
