Call Accepted

Today is National Law Enforcement Appreciation Day!

Law Enforcement Officers of every rank and file have chosen a profession that puts their life on the line every day for their communities. They've answered a call to public service that is demanding and often unappreciated.

From local, state and federal, their duties command dedication. The jobs are often thankless and take them away from their families for long hours. Rarely do they know what their days have in store for them. Often law enforcement are the only paid emergency resource a community has. More often they work in coordination with other local, state, and federal organizations to make communities safer.

On National Law Enforcement Day, we have an opportunity to thank them for their service and offer a token of respect.

Did You Know?

- Geese have been successfully used to replace guard dogs at a Scotland winery. Their loud cackles let the security guards know when somebody is approaching.
- Mark Twain had a cat that enjoyed stuffing itself inside the corner pocket of his billiards table and paw away at any balls that came close.
- The average snowflake falls at a speed of 3 to 4 miles per hour. It can take up to an hour to reach the ground.
