2 Corinthians 9:7 – Each one should give what he has decided in his heart to give...for God loves a cheerful giver.

Today is National Girls and Women in Sports Day.

Athletics play an important role in girls' lives. Besides helping to establish a routine for a healthy, active lifestyle, sports build confidence, leadership skills and the ability to work with a team.

But there is so much more to participating in sports. Women who participated in sports in school are more likely to graduate from college. According to an EY study, women increase their odds of landing leadership positions when they have a background in athletics.

Girls develop lifelong valuable relationships during their sports careers, too. It's not just serious business.

It also doesn't matter the sport. Whether girls choose to be a part of the volleyball team or prefer to aim for par or better in golf, the health, leadership, and academic benefits develop with each one.

- The longest living insect is the termite. Scientists estimate that they can live as long as 100 years.
- The world's biggest tire producer is LEGO. They may be tiny toy tires, but the fact still stands.
